

PRESS RELEASE

dated 15 December 2009 Sydney, Australia

ICSGgroup is pleased to announce that it has completed the acquisition of Hi-Tek Fittings Pty Limited on 15 December 2009.

ICSG Group will trade the newly acquired acquisition as Hi-Tek Projects Pty Limited.

Hi-Tek Projects specialises in high end woodworking and quality joinery & cabinetmaking works.

Specialist joinery is the craft of assembling exposed woodwork in the interiors of buildings. Joinery has to do with difficult surfaces and curvatures, such as those of spiral stairs, with complex intersections of members or mouldings and with the handling of the finer qualities and varieties of woods.

The joiner's skill and art thus approach those of the cabinetmaker. One must have an extensive knowledge of geometrical relations and projections, in addition to being manually proficient.

In modern woodworking, however, the hand processes of the joiner have, to a large degree, been complimented by mechanical means.

Hi-Tek Projects has a turn-key factory at Ingleburn, utilising state of the art technology to compliment its core trade skill employment base. Hundreds of years in combined skill exists in the business. Specialist AutoCad based software and programmable CNC Computer Driven Work Centres, band saws and other programmable equipment allow the business to undertake large and complex deliverables.

We combine this state-of-the-art technology with our skilled old world craftsmen so we can achieve a level of quality that is not possible to attain using traditional methods of carpentry.

All equipment utilised at Hi-Tek Fittings allows us the ability to provide technically difficult and advanced wood-working services, second to none.

Mark Cohen from ICSG Group said "The last bastion of capability for Australian Made product remains at the forefront of ICSG Group stated delivery. We are proud of the investment that we have made in the industry and to "Australian Made" competency".
